NOTES ON EDUCATION.

An examination of the younger children of the public schools of Boston, made by Dr. Stauley Hail howed that 18 per cent of the number had no knowlede of a cow, further than that gained from sictures; 31 per cent of these examined had never seen an aut; 65 per cent had never seen corn growing; 90 per cent did not know where their ribs ere nor exactly what they were, while only 6 per cent were ignorant of the location of their stomachs Some of the children stated that flour came from the grocer, who gets it directly from God; others said that meat is dung from the ground or picked up from the meat tree. From these facts Dr. Hall deduced two other facts—that a gross ignorance of practical things may exist side by side with a very thorough book knowledge and that some modifica-tion of the kindergarten method is nescessary in the instruction of the young.

he instruction of the young. Protesor Henry Croft, of the Perente University, who died in Texas last week, had filled the chair of chemistry and experimental philosophy in that institution for more than thirty years. "He was noted for rare skill as a manipulator of chemical experiments, and was for many years the chief and almost only authority cited in cases of suspected poisoning. He was an enthusiastic scientist with exceedingly practical tendencies of thought, and owing to his thorough acquaintance with his subowing to his thorough acquaintance with his sub-ject and his fondness for laboratory work, excelled as a teacher rather than a lecturer. In a letter re-ceived a few days ago from the late professor he stated that he had been ill for nearly a mouth with dropsy, but that the doctor hoped to pull him through. He stated that he would like to come to Canada in May, but that it was on the cards that he would never leave Texas again, yet he hoped for the best."

The Philadelphia Board of Education has just elected Mr. McAllister, of Milwaukee, Superintendent of Schools. All the papers of that city express the hope that a broad measure of liberty and initiative will be allowed the new officer. "His election. savs The Press, "marks an advance in municipal education which will prove permanent and fruitfu largely as the capable man who has been elected is largely as the capable man who has been elected is given power and opportunity to make his ability feit. Our schools long since reached a point at which the loose organization of earlier days has caused to be efficient, and, while it is impossible for Philadelphia to rival the results reached elsewhere unless the city is willing to equal the expenditure of other less populous municipalities, much can be accomplished by a superintendent who can bring the entire organization to a higher level."

The cyclone of last June, though very destructive did not by any means kill lown College. The State Register says that the library is nearly if not quite all it was in number of volumes before the cyclone, and a good dear better in quality. In the chemical department the excellent apparatus is replaced, and in that of physics the same thing is being rapidly, done. A much larger and finer music hall than the done. A much larger and finer music hall than the one destroyed is contemplated. The trustees are also intending to build a large and commodious tadies' hall. More than a hundred young ladies from various pacts of this and other States already resort to lowe tollege each year, and with an adequate home for them the number would at once double itself. Both the institution and the community have advantages of their own for the educantion of young ladies, and these are increasing as to college appliances, and editices multiply.

The American Institute of Instruction announces that a premium of $60 arising from the Bicknell Fund of $1,000 will be given to the writer of the best essay on the topic: "The Application of the Principles of Psychology to the Work of Teaching." The conditions are that the essay shall not exceed 5,000 words; that it shall be written legibly on one side of the paper; that it shall be sent to the secretary in Boston on or before May 15, and that the essay receiving the prize shall become the property of the institute.

Journal. " contains the true idea of co-education. It makes no distinction between the male and the female popils, but it opens the door to all who seek knowledge, and it distributes its favors justly and impartially to both sexes. The sphere of woman is constantly widening in this country, and those of them who wish to obtain a university education should not be debarred from doing so by the sentimental exprise of all the doctors of divinity in the land. Boys and girls are born and brought up together in the same family, and get their start in the same preparatory institutions of learning, and to separate them as they advance toward the finish of their education can only be done to the disadvantage of both sexes."

Governor Butler in an address to the scholars of the evening high school of Boston last week said: "I wish tuere were schools like this in every large town of the commonwealth; they are gradually taking pattern from this in other places. Here is given to a class of scholars that, by their own thought and industry and self-reliance and good selves. Therefore I say that there can be to the statesman, the lover of his country, no finer exhibition than this to touch the heart or inspire the judgment in the firm belief in the futurity of our Government and the liberty of our laws, when the younger portion of our people have an education such as this." minct, have chosen this better bath for them-

The second pastoral of Bishop O'Farrell, of Trenton, N. J., treats mainly of Christian education. He maintains that it is a pagan and not a Christian idea to allow the State to teach, and he charges that the public schools of the country are defective in the following particulars: They do not educate for they do not improve the heart, improving only the intellect; they do not even do this well, because many branches of learning can only be studied in many branches of learning can only be studied in connection with religion; they are not truly American, because they abridge unnecessarily the rights of citizens and encroach on the rights of parents; they are unchristian and calculated to destroy Christian principles in the rising generations; they tend to loosen morals; and they impose an enormous tax, every year growing greater, which is unjustly levied on a large section of the community. He closes by appealing to Roman Catholics to support parachial schools.

The Baltimore Day expresses the hope that before many years technical or trade schools will be established as adjuncts of the public schools in every city. "The wit of man," it says, "could scarcely have devised a worse method of learning anything than that which is embodied in our present system of apprenticeship. It is at best but a poor substitute for none at all. It is, as it were, an awkward bundle of oid laws and still older notions, and is as much out of place in our new civilization as a distail and spindle would be in a New-England cotton mill.

. Trade schools are not an untried experiment either in England or this country. The Boston School of Mechanic Arts is in practical operation, and the St. Louis Manual Training School, a recent institution, has met with flattering success. The object of these schools, as has been said, is not to teach special trades, but to give two or three years' preliminary mechanical education; to teach the use of tools; to give that practical knowledge of woods and metals which can only be gained by actually working in the materials themselves; and last, but by no means least, to give systematic and very thorough instruction in the art of drawing, which may be properly styled the language and literature of trades."

WEDNESDAY, March 14-P. M. The directors of the Western Union Telegraph Company, at their regular quarterly meeting today, declared a dividend of 1% per cent for the quarter to end March 31. The usual quarterly statements were presented at the meeting. The corrected statement for the quarter ended December 31, 1882, shows that the net revenues of that quarter were $2,053,145, instead of $2,150,000 as was estimated by the statement of December 13, and the balance, after deducting interest and sinking fund applications, was $1,926,583 instead of $2,023,150, as appeared by the estimated statement. For the current quarter the estimated net revenue is $303,145 less than the actual for the quarter ended December 31, 1882, but is estimated to be $143,542 greater than for the same quarter of 1882. The following compares the actual business of the quarter ended March 31, 1882, with the estimates

Net errnings per quarter. $1,479,758 Dividends 1 1/2 in 1882 and 1,199,500 $1,623,500 1,399,750 $223,750 8,393,885

Surplus March 31 $1,315,531 $3,617,635 The company makes a supplementary statement covering the calendar year's (ended December 31, 1882.) business. By this statement the surplus for the year of 1882 is shown to have been $2,358,612, against $886,988 for the year of 1881; but the report for 1881 includes the sum of $1,225,915 expended for new construction, etc., while that for 1882 contains no such stem. Yet there is little question that the expenditures in 1882 for these items largely exceeded those of 1881. The following statement compares the two years: ...1881. $16,889,396 0.489,260 $7,379,127 $2,112,903 $886,988 $2,358,612 To-day's stock market was void of features and was duil and uninteresting. The general tone of the speculation was weak, and the closing prices of a majority of the stocks show small declines from last evening's last figures; and that despite a final rally of $\frac{1}{4}\varphi^1_2$ per cent. The Wabashes and Denver and Rio Grande, however, were marked exceptions to the rule. Denver rose from 46 to 4738@4718 for no better reason than that it suited the purposes of the manipulators to have it rise, and some few shorts" added their purchases to close to that other influence. The Wabashes were treated to a story of a loan of the property to some one of the Southwestern system of roads (probably to the Iron Mountain); and as anything that can happen to that property is regarded as something that must be favorable compared with its present condition, there was some sharp speculative buying of those shares, without stopping to learn the character or terms of the proposed loan. We are informed that it is proposed to lease the road for its net earnings, without guarantees of any kind. The total transactions amounted only to 207,229 shares, and the market closed

Governments were dull at irregular prices. Bids for the 4s and 44es are 1s higher, and for the 3s and 3128 4 lower. Annexed are the closing quotations:

State bonds were neglected; Louisiana consols sold at 68 seller 39 days. Of city bank stocks North America sold (70) at 10112@102, and Metropolitan (5) at 159. No special features were developed in the general bond market. Texas and Pacific incomes further declined to 6438@6434, and the firsts, Rio Grande division, were easier at 82@8134. Missouri, Kansas and Texas general mortgages were I per cent lower at 80, and the second consols were off $^{1}_{2}$ at 57^{1}_{2} . Wabash general mortgages were $^{1}_{8}$ caster at 80. Eric second consols were off $^{1}_{4}$ at 96^{1}_{2} . Canada Southern firsts were off 3g at 961g. St. Louis and Iron Mountain 5s were up 112 at 7912. East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia 5s were off 2s at 721s and incomes were 1s lower at 35%. New York, Chicago and St. Louis firsts were steady at 9614 @9619, and New York, West Shore and Buffalo 5s were 14 higher at 76.

The Sub-Treasury to-day gained on balance $237.447, made up by gains of $163,471 com and $73,976 currency. The day's transactions covered: Receipts, $1,257,638; payments (including $410,-000 gold certificates retired from the cash), $1,430,191: currency balance, $6,559,816: com balance, $126,168,346. Money at the Stock Exchange ruled from 100'clock a.m. to 2:50 o'clock p.m. at 12@15 per cent, and stocks of all kinds loaned at
